ADVANCED CONTRACTS

Management and Effective Contract Handling

Course Introduction:

All organizations need to plan. Most will have strategic or corporate plans which provide a direction for the organization and its staff. Identification of requirements is clearly of strategic importance, especially where key purchases are critical to the liquidity of a company or the performance of a new product.

The ability to negotiate a contract successfully is one of the most basic of the business person's skill sets. Significant positive or negative impacts are made to every organization's bottom line from the results of the bad negotiations. Therefore, it is essential for the continued success of any organization that staff are well trained and experienced in the planning, strategies, and conducting of negotiations during contracts.
